DICKSON COUNTY BOYS
AT CAMP PIKE, ARK.

Begin Army Life in a Strenuous Way, but Undaunted.
Items of Interest.

Camp Pike, Ark.,
June 1, 1918.

The special train carrying about one thousand Tennessee selectmen, in which party noble sons of Dickson county were included, arrived at Camp Pike on the afternoon of the 29th, being several hours behind regular schedule time. The Dickson County contingent were twenty-four hours on the journey and were a wearisome-looking tribe when we detrained, for no one found it possible to "snore" en route, for altho each one's heart was heavy with the thought of the sad parting with loved ones, nevertheless all were in fine spirits (that is, each tried to appear so, regardless how hard), for each one realized that he had unnumbered friends "back at home" who were standing behind him and were especially interested in his crowning success, and a safe return to loved ones. The many kind expressions of sympathy and encouragement extended to each to go forward with zeal and fight until the victory is won, and all seemed to realize the fact. The large throng that bade us adieu God's speed was a splendid credit to the grand old patriotic county of Dickson. Many of the Davidson County selectmen were loud in their remarks of the patriotism manifested at Dickson, which to their estimation was the biggest demonstration given anywhere between Nashville and Little Rock. This was also a noticeable fact with us, but was more especially appreciated when the acknowledgement came from an outside source. Three cheers for Dickson County—the "dimple of the universe!" Just a word about the Dickson County Red Cross Chapter. The boys were loud in their praise in reference to this organization, for but the kindly act of the noble women who constitute this organization, many would have gone hungry. Cheers after cheers for the Red Cross, mingled with songs of religious and patriotic fervor, made the breeze sweet as the locomotive whined its way through the western end of the State into Arkansas.

The Dickson County boys were ready for the "hay" when they reached camp, but due to the mighty horde of selectmen coming in on that date, it was about three hours after reaching camp before we were registered and assigned to quarters, and after we had invaded the bath house and mess hall, we were lured about half-a-mile for bed straw, and it was after ten o'clock before it was possible for us to inhabit "slumberland"—and believe me, there was no one who had to be asked to sleep—nevertheless, each had to acknowledge that he wished he was near enough to feel the soft touch and hear the tender voice of a mother or some other loved one. All of the ten thousand selectmen coming to Camp Pike from Tennessee, Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi during the period of May 25-29, were put under quarantine for ten to fourteen days. This makes the recruits see camp life from the dark side, of course, but after the men have been given the liberty of a regular soldier and have undergone the effects from vaccination and inoculation, army life will no doubt appear much brighter. At any rate, all are determined to stand true and never give up until the Kaiser is crushed and Prussianism is forever obliterated.

Camp Pike presents a nice appearance; that is, what little we new recruits have been able to see of it. It is estimated that there are from fifty to sixty thousand men now in camp. Men are continually leaving for parts unknown—Overseas, (more likely). It is estimated that the Max draftmen will be in training here about five months, but of course there is nothing definite to this effect.

There will be about 17,000 more men sent to Camp Pike this month. Camp Pike is familiarly known now as a replacement camp—the different divisions being filled with draft selectmen.

The Dickson County boys were divided through the camp, but most of the boys from Dickson are together. The writer with Leslie Fussell, Claud Hudson and Johnnie Adcock are in the casual detachment of Company L, 348th Inf., while Tullage Taylor, Albert Hines, Warren Donaldson, Grady Tipton and Clarence Powers are in Company M. Alonzo Bond, of the Hickman County contingent, who is familiarly known in Dickson, is in Company H. Members of these two companies occupy barracks adjoining each other. The writer, with Johnnie M. Adcock, former Fourth Tennessee Guardsmen, are acting in the capacity of Corporals; however the appointment doubtless will not be made until we undergo examination, which will probably come in the next few days.

The new men are kept busy most all the time. Have Thursday, half day Saturday and Sunday as holidays, but there is something for us to do even on these days.

Uncle Sam feeds his men in very good fashion, too. We have a plenty each meal, but there are only three or four different kinds of food.

We boys present a comical appearance washing our clothes, for this is one of the many duties a soldier has that he has never been used to.

In conclusion, will say that the boys of (Uncle Sam, together with those of the Allied Nations, will speedily show those ruthless Huns the "error of their way," and that a just and everlasting peace will reign supreme over this great universe, and that as many as God shall so will, will be blessed with the happy privilege of returning to loved ones, as pure and sound as when they departed.

Farmer's Urged to Grow
More Sheep in County.

The Sheep Increase Production work in Dickson county is hoped will induce many farmers to become sheep growers. E. H. Stone is the county chairman of this work. It is hoped every farmer, who can, will grow a few sheep.

A survey is being made in order to locate the ones who want lambs and those who have lambs for sale. The following list has been turned in to the county agent:

Davis, T. B. Walker, Lee Mathis, Sylvia; Monroe Foster, W. H. Lewis, S. M. Fussell, Charlotte; J. E. Hunter, N. D. Duke, Cheap Hill; J. W. Stephens, Dickson.

170 MORE ADDED TO
COUNTY'S ARMY LIST

Local Exemption Board Have Moved Their Offices Into New Quarters.

Wednesday, the Local Exemption Board's offices, which are now located in the Walker building, over Tomlinson's grocery store, was quite a busy place, the occasion being the registering of Dickson County boys who have become 21 years old since June 5th of last year.

The registration began at 7 a. m., and lasted until 9 o'clock, p. m., and during that time, 170 were placed on the U. S. Army roll from this County.

These new registrants will, in a few days, be required to fill out questionnaires, and then the Local Board will examine and classify them.

It is estimated that at least one million more men will be placed on the army service list, through the registration held Wednesday.

Inside Story of the War
Told in Gerard Film

When, on Oct. 25, 1915, the Kaiser shook his fist in the face of Ambassador James W. Gerard and told him that after the war was ended, he would stand no nonsense from the United States, he did not realize that the patience of Americans would soon reach the breaking point.

The whole series of incidents, the plot and intrigue, the broken promises, the deliberate disregard of all the rights of a friendly nation, in the insane desire to rule the world, is clearly shown in the wonderfully vivid motion picture reproduction of Mr. Gerard's book "My Four Years in Germany."

Every American should see this picture so that he can better understand why America must stand united against this common foe. The Alamo Theatre has secured the authorized film version, and the people of Dickson county will have the opportunity to see it, on Friday and Saturday of this week.

Boy Scouts to Locate
Black Walnut Trees.

In addressing the Boy Scouts of America President Wilson says "In order to carry out the program of the War Department it is of the utmost importance that large quantities of black walnut lumber should be secured for its uses. Black walnut is used by the Ordnance Department for the manufacture of gunstocks and by the Signal Corps for the manufacture of propellers for battle and bombing airplanes."

The President then requests the Boy Scouts to locate black walnut trees and furnish this information to the government.

Troop 2 of Dickson will spend a day each week in this work and they will highly appreciate the co-operation of the land owners.

Wilson Woodcock,
Scoutmaster Troop 2.

To Farmers, Hucksters and Merchants of Dickson Co.

I have just received instructions from the Federal Food Administration Department, ordering that all eggs handled by merchants and hucksters must be candled before purchased. All merchants and hucksters who sell eggs other than direct to consumers, are required by law to secure license to handle eggs.

These license can be secured free of charge by making application to the United States Food Administration, License Division, Washington, D. C. The following form can be used in making application for license:

Give name of town where business is located, and date.

License Division,
Law Department,
U. S. Food Administration,
Washington, D. C.
Dear Sirs:

Will you kindly furnish me the required license for the buying and selling of poultry and eggs?

I will abide by the rules and regulations governing the handling of these commodities, from this date.

Applicants for license are permitted to continue to do business after application is mailed, just the same as they are after receiving license, but are to keep copy of application.

All eggs that are shipped must be packed in standard egg cases, and a card or statement must be enclosed in each egg case, showing the date that eggs were candled and name of merchant or dealer handling or candling eggs.

Merchants who do not ship eggs or sell to those who ship, but only sell to consumers, are not required to secure license or permit to handle eggs.

Very respectfully,
Pitt Eissalee,
County Food Administrator.

The secretary was asked to send the monthly check to Atlanta for the "trench snakes" fund.

DICKSON COUNTY MAN
MISSING FOR WEEKS

$100 Reward Offered for the
Finding of Mr. Amos Spicer
Who Has Disappeared.

Several weeks have elapsed since Mr. Amos Spicer mysteriously disappeared from the home of his daughter, on Turnbull, and not a word or clue has been received up to this time to clear up the mystery as to where, or how, Mr. Spicer disappeared, further than that he was at home, alone, for about two hours just before he was missed.

Great apprehension is felt by the relatives, and a reward of $100 is now offered for information that will cause Mr. Spicer to be found.

It seems, according to reports, that Mr. Spicer had been left at home, alone, for a short time, his daughter having gone to a neighbor's, and her husband, Mason Buttrely, was plowing in a field just a short distance across the creek from the Buttrely home, where Mr. Spicer lived. When Mrs. Buttrely returned home, about two hours later, from her visit, she could not find her father. A search was made in the neighborhood, but no one, apparently, was able to give any information to bring comfort to the searchers.

However, there was some hope and belief current, for a time, that Mr. Spicer was somewhere in the near vicinity. Some surmised that he had taken a notion to go to Charlotte or Nashville, to have some legal papers executed, and various conjectures were made, none of which have led to a discovery of the missing man.

Mr. Spicer was very old and nearly blind, hence it is feared that he wandered away and met his death by accident or foul means, since the most diligent search has failed to discover any clue as to his whereabouts. While Mr. Spicer is reputed to be wealthy, no statement as to whether he had any considerable amount in possession at the time of his disappearance, has been made public.

Mason Buttrely, his son-in-law, offers a reward of $100.00, we are informed, for the discovery of Mr. Spicer, or the restoration of the missing man to his home.

Methodist Episcopal Church.

Sunday School at 9:45, preaching at 11 by the pastor. Let us have a full attendance at these services. Weather conditions are fine, and each one should feel that, if I am not present my place is vacant. No one else can fill your place. In these trying times, when all are called upon to do their part for the government, we should feel the Master is calling us just as truly, to do our part for the kingdom. Your pastor will be pleased to have you present. There will be no evening service because of the union patriotic service at Oakmont.
